Change in Leadership at Incore Bank AG

Schlieren / Switzerland, 20 October 2026: The Board of Directors of Incore Bank AG has appointed Igor Djurdjevic, a member of the Executive Board Incore Bank AG, as interim CEO. CEO Mark Dambacher will be leaving the company.

Following many years of successful collaboration, the Board of Directors of Incore Bank and Mark Dambacher, CEO of Incore Bank, have ended their working relationship due to differing views on Incore Bank's strategic priorities and future direction.

Peter R. Haist, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Incore Bank, commented: "Mark Dambacher has led Incore Bank with great dedication over many years and has played a significant role in shaping its development. We would like to express our sincere gratitude for his commitment and wish him all the best for the future. Igor Djurdjevic, an experienced leader within Incore Bank, will assume the role of Interim CEO. He has an in-depth knowledge of the bank and its business and will ensure continuity during this transition."

Igor Djurdjevic has been a member of the Executive Board since 2026. In his role as Head of Corporate Services, he is responsible for Finance, Risk Control, Compliance and Legal at the bank. His appointment as Interim CEO remains subject to final approval by FINMA.

Further information regarding the permanent appointment to the CEO position will be communicated in due course.
